" This is straight up North Korea style propaganda video, it pretends to be "Anti-Communism" but it's really an Authoritarian dictatorship in disguise! This is the opposite of what Our Constitution stands for, believing this is as UNpatriotic as is gets!" twitter algorithmically prioritised comments again. Unreal. They imply by this that trump is corrupt meaning they admit high profile politicians can be corrupt but then tell you that not a single person in the media, Secretary of state, governor, election official, Biden, is corrupt. These stupid naïve cunts. This is how a massive ring of fraud and corruption and money laundering has managed to form under their noses and they're totally clueless thinking these people are gods

1 Their final solution would be to put signs on all the doors of (((Jewish))) businesses and herd them into specified parts of cities so they can be more easily observed. They may have to do a mass cleansing of the population of them eventually..... either all that or they forbid (((Jews))) from breeding with gentiles, and forbid them from owning or running businesses. Thus making sure they are a permanent underclass, instead of pulling all the strings in the world apparently. What's not to understand?

Would you have pursued a blanket policy of 'kill every German' in the second world war? Or would you have concentrated mostly on defeating the Nazi regime and their Schutzstaffel foot soldiers and plowing through anyone who got in the way of that goal?

Would you purposely kill Claus von Stauffenberg, who himself tried to kill Hitler? He was German. Augustin Rösch? Erich Maria Remarque? Albert Einstein? Heidi, girl of the Alps?

Would the U.S. population, 1 in 10 of whom were children of German immigrants at that time, supported murdering prisoner-of-war Oma and Opa? Wouldn't it be more productive to at least attempt to protect anyone on this list? Not give anyone the rationale for organizing a postwar insurgency?

Do you think it's wise, especially in the age of thermonuclear ballistic missiles, to back your enemy into a corner like a wild animal and not give him an out?

They will not throw me in one of their gulags with the human trash, the thieves, rapists and murderers. I would do my best to not be taken alive if that's what it comes to.

I would not go on some fucking LARP, to stand around and wave flags, maybe throw a punch at some antifa soyboy. That accomplishes nothing and is a waste of time and that's how I see this thing going.

30 ▼ Geopolitical Redpill:

The marxists/commies need war to spread; that's the history of the world for 120+ years now. Nearly all the worlds major conflicts were marxists in countries, sending in patriots and conscripts to fight other countries patriots and conscripts, with the help of marxists in both countries. Thus, making it easier for marxists to overtly or covertly take power and spread within countries and between countries.

Marxism cannot survive without theft.

War allows easier theft and forced wealth transfer (even if just by currency devaluation).

Marxists start crap, and excalate it from there with help of their global commie kin within countries' governments/institutions.

War is exactly what the Dems/commies have been pushing for for years now. They have their skirmishers do point-blank assassinations of patriots on camera because they are trying to raise the water temp to boil.

Who assassinated Pres McKinley? Making Progressive TR POTUS. Marxist-anarcist.

Who started WW1? marxist-anarcist-kultural enricher point-blank assassin.

Where did the commies grow from WW1. There were more registered commies in the USA in 1917 than in Russia during the Red Revolution.

Who started WW2? Where did marxists grow from WW2? WW2 was about attacking all those whom were attacking or standing in the way of marxists around the world.

Who started Korean War?

Who started Vietnam?

Who has grown strong with 20 years of sending patriots off to grind blood in the sand halfway around the world, while devaluing our currency, no-bid contracts, shovel-ready projects, billion dollar websites, quarter million dollar speeches, billion dollar mask contracts, etc.

Who started most of the civil wars in Central America, South America, Africa, Asia, Europe over these last 120 years? Who assassinated most of Europe's and other countries' royalty starting after The Communist Manifesto was published, going full speed into the 1930s.

Who killed mass murdered over 100 million humans last century?

WAR YOU SAY? WAR IS WHAT THE MARXISTS/COMMIES PUSH FOR.

LONG LIVE OUR REPUBLIC!! PEACE IS THE PRIZE! -Quaker Pedo

14 ▼ Amen to that.

Throwing another geopolitical redpill in here... Any pedes who know about Yuri Bezmenov would do well to become familiar with another Soviet defector named Anatoliy Golitsyn. He warned about the communists' long-range deception strategy to first get us to dismantle our superior military by the collapse of the USSR, and then systematically destroy us from within. That's a horribly crl g generalization of his main thesis, but he's definitely worth checking out. Nobody listened to him back in the 1980s.

I get that bankers fund wars, it's not possible to conduct war without bankers or a gold mine.

Fun Fact most people don't know. Alexander the Great was able to fund his wars, because part of his dad's wars/conquests and work was securing and developing gold mines, thus after Alexander was able to come of age and secure power, he had the coin to pay for the troops/war to conduct his epic conquests.

But without Marxism; the war lenders/money printers have to go back Trillion Dollars Cares Acts & such. And this is a different kind of wealth transfer than, when coupled with kinetic warfare/civil war/world war.

One thing about Trump, he never bites off more than he can chew. First things first.

just want to remind that nuclear weapons changed everything ever since their implementation there has been no large scale war at all, only small conflicts/locale wars

the price of large scale war is much much higher now, that is why they resort to subversion - because they cannot do it directly anymore, they are experts in subversion, they would definitely attempt a direct war if nuclear weapons were never invented

“ just want to remind that nuclear weapons changed everything ever since their implementation there has been no large scale war at all, only small conflicts/locale wars the price of large scale war is much much higher now, that is why they resort to subversion - because they cannot do it directly anymore, they are experts in subversion, they would definitely attempt a direct war if nuclear weapons were never invented

More Geopolitical Redpills: But see that's not quite accurate either. The Dems/marxists don't use nukes on other marxists. Since, (USA testing in WW2 on Americans) and then Hiroshima and Nagasaki, no wars have been non-marxists. ie Imperial Japan vs Mao, = FDR/Truman mar. nuke non-marxist Japan. ✓

US in Korea: Truman wouldn't allow nuking of the marxists in North Korea.

US in Vietnam: I B I wouldn't allow the nuking of marxists in North Vietnam

And in places like China assisting North Korea, or North Vietnam; or the US in Afganistan, Iraq, etc. the whole point of sending the US there was to grind down American Patriots & conscripts and local patriots & conscripts; so why would the marxists want to speed the war up or end it; the whole point is to keep the bloodletting and budget-bleeding.

With the end of WW2 and Truman cheating Dewey in 1948 for re-election (see ballot dumps after midnight. See the date (June 1948) on 3 USC 2 in my WIN WIN Plan spam); meant that Truman and the marxists got to set up much of post-war Europe and Japan into "parliamentary democracy" systems, so their socialist/marxist kin could rise and spread "in the west" while leaving much new territory behind the Iron Curtain, including out to the Yellow Sea.

But parliamentary systems only work when there's a functioning monarchy, that's why they were invented. So Brussels/E.U. the U.N. and many places made easy for the commies to keep doing their thing.

- Marxism (light) = Socialism
- Marxism (medium) = Fascism
- Marxism (heavy) = Communism

Marxism is evil in all its forms; and attracts all other evils to it.

Now look on the map, including internally in the USA, like in WW1 and WW2, and post WW2; as ask why is it that lets take the aircraft industry; that when you examine all the government contracts; you'll see that the companies in the areas with the highest commie activity got the best contracts, and put into positions where their rivals were slowly eaten/taken down/consolidated.

Simple fact is if you look at a geopolitical map of the last 120+ years; you'll see there's no need to a "large scale war" after WW2, because the marxists spread and spread between countries and within countries. And the period of time of "the fall of communism" was just the commies moving everything from the USSR as a main HQ to CCP China (thanks including to Mr. He who's name shall not be mentioned, just lost DoD job/clearance the other week; and lots of others.) CCP China has more factories, more stolen tech, more workers, more spies in US Companies, more spies in US schools & government, more everything than the USSR ever had.

Who's the "large scale war" going to involve? When the commies are doing exactly what they've wanted. They don't need nukes, they're not going to nuke themselves.

How do you know the fall of Communism was just the commies moving everything from the USSR to China? Mao's China shared some similarities with Stalin's USSR, but based on my research, the post-war USSR and China were sworn enemies. Then when Deng came to power, Kissinger, Nixon and Trudeau Sr guided China through Communism into Fascism. Now Xi is giving China their newest identity: National Socialism. What are your thoughts?

Some quick framework background.

Most leaders of marxism (the ones who get to power) don't actually believe in marxism; it's merely the tool/vehicle they use to achieve power (which is also why they tend to do "purges" of their other fellow comrade/marxist leaders, usually the "true believers" not just political rivals.)

These "sucessful" leaders tend to be the mass murdering (very bad/evil mental brains), and thus they know not to trust each other too much; or in cases where there's a further cultural gap, really know to not trust each other; as they'd just as easily kill off a few million of the other countries' people as a few million of their own country's people; or sell out the other guy and that country just as easy as conquer/takeover a 3rd one. (There is some honor among thieves, as the saying goes.)

These leaders adopt their various flavors of marxism, based on where they are located-ie to fit the cultural, economic, political, demographic, geographic, historical, etc particulars of their country/region/time.

So like take current Governor of CA, Newsom; he wouldn't call for nationalizing industries of Big Tech of Chi-Comm Valley, or Hollywood, or universities, because the marxists have already taken them over; but he wants to/is taking over PG&E (the major private electric & gas company) because marxists don't control that yet. Same goes for all other marxist leaders, when you analyze their "economic/political" positions were/are it fits with what their gameplan is to get to power for their location.

So the various "leaders" tend to not exactly get along as well as people might imagine; and there is very real differences and dislikes; similar to say the Comic Books of villians all together, they may not like each other at all, but they work often towards a similar goal (against the good guys). And because each "sucessful leader who got to power" had to adapt marxism to that countries/peoples/etc particulars, means the type/flavor/brand of marxism which "works" in one place, likely wont be an exact cookie-cutter fit to "work" to take over another place. So Fascism of Italy or Germany, is not the same as Stalin, is not the same as Mao, is not the same as Castro, etc.

This is also where the classic "university" coffee-shop type arguments of "X type communism is nothing like Y type Fascism, is nothing like Z type Socialism" come from; as they're arguing that chocolate ice cream is nothing like strawberry ice cream is nothing like vanilla ice cream; while not acknowledging or realizing the redpills that they're still talking about ice cream, just arguing over the flavors.

"How do you tell a communist? Well, it's someone who reads Marx and Lenin. And how do you tell an anti-Communist? It's someone who understands Marx and Lenin."* — Ronald Reagan

Another key thing to realize about Marxism, is it cannot continue without theft or fresh infusions of money/labor/tech/resources/etc. It's not economically self-sustainable like Capitalism is. So Marxism is like de-forestation (or like computer/board games where the amount of resources in the game is fixed at the start, and get used up along the way; eventually there's no more resources.)

To your more specific questions:

There's two main ways at coming at this issue, one is the inside information track which is rather difficult. The second way is the use the "de facto" by just looking at it from the outside & lens of history. Just as the geopolitical redpills above: If in 1940 trying to explain as some did, that WW2 was going to be another rouse of pretense, and like WW1 in the marxists were coordinating in expanding the maps; that's like screaming into the wind. Without reading firsthand information, but by just looking backwards, it's easy to see, or at least rather undeniable to not at least notice.

So (this is where I'm not going to end up doing this topic justice as too short but I'll try to condense) by the time of the "open China" gameplan, most of the USSR resources/money/population/tech had been going full marxism from 1917 to 1970 ish (and obviously countries start at various different starting places; like Russia 1917 is different than China 1940 or Venezuela pre-Maduro)

So too put it far too shortly; where the USSR was in 1970 was about 1 generation (30ish years) ahead in self-marxist pilliaging (mal-investment of capital, as Ron Paul might say) from where Commie China was. The USSR's marxism was going to "burn itself out" without enough runway left in it, before just slipping into straight dictator-mode (without needing or promoting the veil of marxism) to hold onto/keep power or to hold it's borders together.

So there needed to be another place with more resources and be able to pour more capital/money/tech stolen/transferred from the rest of the world.

Thus,

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Henry_Kissinger#D%C3%A9tente_and_the_opening_to_China the plan was "sold" to anti-commies like Nixon, as a way to "hurt the commies" by driving a split between China & USSR. This btw is the similar logic how many other actions were used to "sell" plans which help marxists by seeming to "hurt" them. Similar to how people call marxists "Liberals" as an insult, but they're not really insulting them, it's giving the marxists the exact cover-word/language which FDR adopted which is 180 degrees from marxism. Thus, by anti-commies using the word LIBERALS, they not only aren't hurting the commies, but helping them.

"Containment Policy" was another major selling to anti-commies as a way to hurt commies, but it of course also did the opposite.

“ Then when Deng came to power, Kissinger, Nixon and Trudeau Sr guided China through Communism into Fascism. Now Xi is giving China their newest identity: National Socialism. What are your thoughts?

So Kissinger's fingerprints of course where all over it (key player); as well as the other key players who do such crafty things with surnames everyone would recognize.

The differences between Stalinesque and Maoesque economicis; and their famous disagreements; and the "reforms" which the USSR tried too late; and which current CCP China adopted (which again against what Mao said)... is in order to get the flow of capital/tech/resources to sustain the marxism.

The CCP basically created a "capitalist class" which of course now is well known. This can be seen as you described it going from communism to fascism, and now to socialism; but when

Win / TheDonald ▼

- Marxism (medium) = Fascism
- Marxism (light) = Socialism

The reality is CCP China hasn't lightened up its marxism, it can and will purge its created "capitalist class" at any time it wants to. It can and will pull back its softer Socialism, at any time it wants to. The softening and capital class is a facade over the Communism, serving to provide inputs of theft for tech, money, resources (ie the means of production & efficiency; which marxism rules over all other aspects: property, rights, environment, religion, family, health, life, nature, etc.)

And when you put the timelines of say the Marxists in Russia up to the Marxists in China; you'll still see that 30 year ish time lag (More precision is a much longer discussion.) but in short, this means that where the USSR went bust in 1991; is coming up pretty soon (in a few years) on the horizon for CCP China.

The "reforms" within the Party by Xi, are the precursors which are in that last-gasp from marxism-controlled government to just dictator-controlled government.

To stave this off, massive infusions of cash/resources/tech/etc. would be required to keep CCP China going as a marxist country (eg Paris Climate Accords; Zero Tariffs; The FED & Brussels printing presses at Trillions/year more eg Cares Act; massive quantities of food (soybeans, corn, wheat, pork, chicken, beef, etc.), iron ore, oil, etc.; and tens of thousands of new stolen technology ideas/inventions/trade secrets.)

The FED already devalued the USD by increasing money supply at least 25% this year, maybe more like 33% or more; and that's without any of these current trillion+ spending bills being passed into law.

This is one reason why for the global commie kin, and CCP China in particular; and every corrupt and commie who's in on the game; needs BIDEN/HARIS/NANCY/CHUCK to be the "elected leaders in DC", and rigged the ballots & counting machines & processes to do it with fraud/theft/cheating.

Needless to say, Americans aren't going to let the fraud stand. Americans voted in an epic Republican Landslide for DJT/Pence/Republicans all across the board.

Interesting article for a key reason--This article you linked is a fairly, talented piece of Leftie propaganda. I can say that I haven't read a more (elegantly) densely-packed article full of bluepills in one article this calendar year.

It goes back above to the flavors of ice cream discussion in a college coffeshop, "Look, CCP is Rocky Road, and that's NOT communist chocolate!"

Thanks for the link. I should do a full rebuttal to the article, but it's Christmas Eve/Christmas Day :)

*hugs & Merry Christmas!!!! Let me know if you have any thoughts/questions.

I do appreciate the thought and do agree. One thing is, it's "redpilling" and people generally have a limit to the amount of dosages they can take at any given time, as it shakes their worldview too much; and it usually does take some time for most people "to think on it".

And it's not just the quantity of redpills, but also the rarity of redpills.

So people whom learn or are propagandized by "crowd/social confirmation"; that X is true because everyone says so, or because credible person says so; not because the individual has reasoned it internally with logic themselves; means there's a time delay of acceptance.

For instance, going back a few years on TDspezdit pre 2018 midterms even; I basically warned about all this Dems/marxists driving hard for Civil War 2.0 and mass election cheating/fraud going on right now; and got plenty of pushback on it. I described what they would do, how they would do it, and we can stop them; what we needed to do to head them off, etc.

Or in my WIN WIN Plan, I say in the first sentence, how rare it is; but none the less here's a long informative comment stream which explains what happens, and you'll see a clear example of what I mean, when trying to teach/tutor/etc redpills. Yes everyone is different, but still this comment thread here is enlightening, because the other person is giving the exact pre-calculated responses which occur.

This redpill pushback of too much redpill dosages, and rarity of redpills, results in things like being called "a crank" etc.

Algier Hiss, Solomon Adler, Henry Morgenthau, Harry Dexter White, etc. worked in extremely high positions in govt and influenced U.S. policy to effectively give Mao & commies the win vs. Chang kai Shek, amongst other sabotages (see Yalta conference). Many of these people were the subject of investigations spearheaded by Senator Joseph McCarthy, kicking off the 1950's "Red Scare." McCarthy was 100% right btw, in spite of the slander.

6 "Mao" by Jung Chang. Also Frank Dikötter has a great trilogy on the revolution, Great Leap Forward and Cultural Revolution. Those are the few that I've personally gone through pertaining to Revolutionary China. "Blacklisted by History" by M. Stanton Evans is a thorough if dry defense of senator McCarthy and recounting of related events, definitely concerning U.S. involvement with the prevailing of Communism in China. And I'm just now finishing up "Witness" by Whitaker Chambers, something of a memoir by a former communist party member, underground activist agent, editor at Time magazine and key witness against Soviet agent Algier Hiss. I highly recommend that one.

Aside from those, to understand how something like Marxism gains hold I highly advocate reading Dostoevsky, namely "The Possessed" and Alexander Solzhenitsyn's "Gulag Archipelago." Communism ultimately is beyond context of any particular culture. It is in the end a result of the scientific, humanistic, modern mind. It deculturizes, dehumanizes. In as much as it is "international", it only dissolves every local culture it touches. It is "global" precisely because it is anti human and it dissolves and destroys the particular idiosyncrasies of humanity itself. ✓

 ▼ "The CCP was founded as both a political party and a revolutionary movement in 1921 by revolutionaries such as Li Dazhao and Chen Duxiu. Those two men and others had come out of the May Fourth Movement (1919) and had turned to Marxism after the Bolshevik victory in the Russian Revolution of 1917. In the turmoil of 1920s China, CCP members such as Mao Zedong, Liu Shaoqi, and Li Lisan began organizing labour unions in the cities. The CCP joined with the Nationalist Party in 1924, and the alliance proved enormously successful at first. However, in 1927, after the Nationalists under Chiang Kai-shek (Jiang Jieshi) turned violently against the communists and ousted them from Shanghai, the CCP was driven underground."

2 Soviet Russia is basically the only communist state I don't consider to have been full pants on head retarded when it started (hear me out). The reason is they were the first. Czarist Russia was a shit show that treated people like dirt and turn of the century Russian peasants probably thought this whole workers utopia steal the power from monarchs and have the people rule thing sounded pretty good. There had been rolling revolutions in Europe for at least a century now and maybe this would be a real new thing that takes over.

Well, they quickly proved it absolutely doesn't work. It's an utterly blood drenched nightmare. Basically everything everyone said would happen, did happen. Game over, lights out man. Everyone who tried it after them is just fucking insane or thinks they'll be in the ruling class.

I imagine it kind of like the United States in 1776, where a bunch of idealistic people got together and were like "we're going to do this crazy thing that nobody has ever done before and we're convinced it'll bring about prosperity and everything will kick ass. Fuck monarchy". Except in America it actually was a good idea, and actually does kick ass.

In Russia they were also like "fuck monarchy lets do this crazy idea were convinced will make everything prosperous and awesome". Then it all went completely to shit and right then everyone should have burned their copies of the communism manifesto and communism should have faded into history as "crazy shit that totally didn't work".

unstated beliefs construct a sophisticated framework that allows societies to function regardless of establishment; others refused to buy it.

The philosophical background is one thing, but I am not here to write a research report on the many, many voices in that argument (it includes Voltaire and Casanova of all people) nor to give the "Cult of Reason" a well deserved mocking.

There are few and perhaps no better writings on how most revolutions stink per se than "Reflections on the Revolution in France" by Edmund Burke, an Irish MP who had earlier supported the American cause, confusing many contemporaries. It's a seminal writing in modern conservative thought worldwide (traditionalist, classical liberalism, Whiggery, etc.), albeit a specifically UK perspective that has a warm view of constitutional monarchy and hereditary peerage.

Marx came after all this and yet was also the guy who said that history repeats first as tragedy and second as farce. Marx is not to blame for all of Marxism, because it existed and had been accurately refuted before he was born and he just captured it. Mainly, he saw 1848 and wrote about what the same evil strain of revolutionary nonsense that had existed for decades should try next time: a brand. Catchy slogans, attractive icons--to make a religion worshiping poverty and the economy to go with it. If religion is "the opiate of the masses", Marxism is motherfucking fentanyl.

HAHAHAHA. This is the most retarded shit. Either "YWHV" created itself, which makes something come from nothing either way. You just passed the buck down the road.

-4 Man your mind must be 90IQ to think a being able to "orchestrate the universe" makes logical sense.

And you think the alternative is the universe "organizing itself" fucking lol, wut?

The Universe is always in a state of chaos returning to order, in an eternal cycle, that's how shit works. There's nothing "organized" about this shit, it's fucking chance. This the retardation only allowed to exist cuz humans were allowed to forget (ie made to forget) that they aren't alone in this universe.

Your totalitarian made up "god" is dying this century, hate to break it to you.

And you didn't even bother to explain how some alien entity you've never seen, being "eternal" makes more sense than the universe which we see every day, somehow not being "eternal".

Yea okay buddy.

I don't specifically relate to viewing the divine as YWHV, but I respect people's freedom to worship what they will even if it seems extremely specific, yet invisible, yet highly anthropomorphic.

I understand the thinking of people that say they are atheists.

I am not privy to any special knowledge, but I feel in my being that there is a higher BEING. I am immersed in it, being blessed is to sink into deeper awareness of it.

I think it really is about perspective and emotional reaction to the ostensible place you find yourself being.

Regardless of what you are feeling about it now, the eternal ground of being will remain the eternal ground of being.

Lifepro tip- the only way to change your experience of life is to change your heart/mind.

I look forward to hearing your perspectives and discussing science and spirituality with you pedes for many decades after we make Commies afraid again.

Lol, we will make them very afraid, when their souls are sent to oblivion.

I'm not atheist, but i understand your feeling in higher beings. The Gods are still with humans, even if they had to leave the planet for the time being, their presence is still felt, and can be heard by those attuned to the spiritual world. Not all souls are equal in this regard, so this is probably why you feel that in your being.

▼ This doesn't whatsoever answer the dude saying christianity is the sole cause of "modern civilization" which is technically correct, since they're to blame for the western worlds current predicament. But since he clearly was only refering to the "good" parts of our "wonderful" "modern" civilization, his group has a lot to answer for.

We'd have been better off had they kept feeding christians to the lions.

And honey, it ain't humanity that's to blame for Rome's fall. The world is about to learn they aren't alone, soon enough.

▼ Yeah a lot of folks have done a better job than I could about it so I apologize if my answer was roundabout I guess.

Jordan Peterson makes some great claims for Christian values in Western society and why one can't exist without the other. In fact the attempt to strip Christianity or religion in general out of any culture has ended in disaster for all. Imagine that.

I'm genuinely sorry you feel that way about humans in general. You're obviously very bitter. I feel like everyone on this site is just looking for a fight anymore, I was just trying to Zero. Also zero that they actually had anything injected at all. Stage prop syringes.

On the other hand poor Tiffany Dover, apparently got the real thing. Then 17 minutes later passed out on live TV. Now dead, if the death certificate is real.

Tiffany Pontes Dover, Age: 30, Location: Higdon Alabama, Death report: Done, Data source: DeKalb county death records.

Anyone got links to the entire video, of her enthusiastically taking the shot as part of a hospital pro-vaccine video, then giving a speech about how great it is, during which she passes out and collapses on camera. I only have the bit in the speech where she passes out. She was 'Nurse Administrator' at a hospital.

Also, a link to the official death certificate?

If you look at her Instagram, she used to post every few days and now she hasn't posted since Dec. 13. There are tons of comments on it like "Tiffany, please respond if you're okay, we haven't heard from you". Also, her family has stopped responding on social media as well.

People say it's because she doesn't want publicity, but she could just make her account private. Instead, it's still up and thousands of people are commenting on it now.

Also, a weird YouTube channel was just created last week purporting to be her, but the videos are strange. She already had a YouTube channel with just one intro video on it from about 5 years ago that she never used, so it's strange she'd suddenly create a new one, post that same intro video, and then start posting videos daily.

Correct. China would collapse on itself amidst the chaos of war due to the sheer size of its citizenry. They've got the numbers to colonise vast swathes of the globe. Why haven't they? Because their own nation would collapse in the process. With 1 billion+ people, it only takes a few to launch a coup whilst the top brass is distracted and it's game over.

Think of it this way, if our enemies win, they are going to be saying the same thing about Trump in the future, that he was literally running concentration camps at the border, and he murdered 6 million people with the coronavirus. That's practically what they are saying now. Just imagine having that propaganda crammed down your throat for 50 years.

I was worried you might go there. This past year... it feels like everything I thought I knew about the world was a lie that was taught to me. I can't even separate what is original thought from what is 3 decades worth of social conditioning. Since I've been unplugged I can no longer enjoy most music, movies, video games...

The fact that you can't question anything about the Holocaust should set off the alarm bells. Just think about all of the stuff that happened this year which we were not allowed to question by our "trusted sources" and how many of them turned out to be bullshit.

It does, absolutely. It always has rung alarm bells for me. Did it happen? Yeah, I think so. Was it 6 million? I'm not sure, mainly because there's no real way of knowing. The reason we can't question it, I believe, is because it helps reinforce the 'Jews are victims' narrative and shield the likes of Weinstein, Epstein and Israel from questioning. It's sick.

The real question is that countries are finding it hard to cremate bodies of people who died in covid this year but we are led to believe that there was a superior cremating technology during world war 2. We are also meant to believe that ovens were cheaper for Germans than bullets .at that time,Germany was broke.

This is a stupid line of reasoning. Who is saying it's difficult to cremate bodies?? There's no excess deaths this year. That's just some bullshit headline for fearmongering about covid.

You don't understand my line of reasoning.i agree with your points about the excess deathsof covid being bullshit.i am quoting headlines from the sun and other bullshit papers who talk about how cremating bodies currently is difficult. If we apply the same logic to world war 2,won't it be more difficult to cremate more amount of bodies within three years? World war 2 propaganda talks about cremation being easy. I also question the use of ovens because killing people by oven is more expensive than bullets and you have to consider that Germany wasn't always economically stable during that time.

1 They grow up with parents telling them the party leader is the great hero, and worship the party leader in their formative years. They dream of themselves becoming that dictator one day, just like everyone yearn to be accepted. They are told that work is a duty to help the country, and believe their greatest virtue is to work hard so the party can be strong. A collectivist mind is blind to any concept of individual leader of their own lives. They are taught that working to build something for oneself is evil selfishness. ✓

Russia will not tolerate a CCP that has the US military under control to use as 'first wave' disposables. And that is what a Biden/Harris admin would give them.

These are great questions.

People should look up the history and origins of communism in China.

Isn't it odd that communism began in many different countries during the same time period, around the time mass media began and international trade/banking really took off? It isn't a coincidence.

Look up who Mao's financial advisors were, who his inner circle was. Look up his "Minister of Finance" and their ties.

This is the best Christmas gift ever. He isn't hiding all his cards anymore! Now we know (at least some of) what he really understands of the situation, and thus how critical he knows things are.

For Trump to make that clear, means he's about to throw down. Definitely.

Also, I see Bill Gates' repellent face in there amongst the domestic enemies, and if Trump understands why Gates in particular is an enemy of the USA (and humankind), then that... has huge implications. All excellent.
